“ So saddened by learning of your loss. She is one of our fondest memories, of living across the street from her, while she was growing up. She would practice the organ, and unbeknownst to us, something about the wiring in our house across the street, the music would drift into our front room. For a long time, we thought we had a direct connection to Heaven! You can imagine the surprise when we found out it was Debbie practicing! Her struggle is over and she is at peace....We will always remember her with a smile....
