“ I became best friends with Jack when she moved to Missouri. She didn't know what to expect, but she succeeded in living a happy and productive life here in Mid Missouri. She had a sincere heart, and would do anything for her friends. People often say this about others, but Jack actually lived it. People often glorify their loved ones and friends when they have passed, but Jack doesn't need it. She was just that kind of person, and made the most of each day. There wasn't one time I needed her that she didn't drop what she was doing to come support me. I will miss her warm smile, her giant hugs, our girl talks, and her contagious laughter. My family and I will miss you ever more! We love you Shelby Belby. Be strong, reach for the stars, and strive to be like the woman your mom was.
