“ *We little knew that morning,
God was going to call your name.
In life we loved your dearly,
In death we do the same.*

*It broke our hearts to lose you,
You did not go alone,
For part of us went with you,
the day God called you home.*

*You left us beautiful memories,
Your love is still our guide
And though we cannot see you,
You are always by our side.*

*Our family chain is broken
And nothing seems the same
But as God calls us one by one
The chain will link again.

“ Hey Jess,

I have tried to find you a handful of times over the years since I left fro college. I cant believe this is how I finally found you. Remember when we used to paint in your basement and end up just talking till the paint dried on our brushes instead? Or how we used to spend forever playing with the ferrets and laughing till we hurt. You are such a welcoming and accepting woman. My father used to tell me when I was young that God is in nature, in the trees and in life all around us. I remember that most of your pieces involved trees and people you loved. It is a comforting feeling that you are at piece with so many that love you seeing you in the trees. I have missed you, and I will continue to.
