“ Mike and I were born on the same day, both delivered by Dr Breisch at the Morris Hospital. Our mothers were in recovery together. Having the same birthdate meant that we had the same draft lottery number during Viet Nam, and so we went off to Basic Training together in Louisiana. I bunked above him. What a funny guy, maintaining his humor throughout basic but earning the nickname of "Pushup" Monferdini because his clowning would piss off the drill sergeants. But that didn't stop him. I remember being at "attention" in Formation, when we overheard an office phone ringing in the distance. Mike said, "If that's my Mom, tell her I won't be home for dinner", cracking up a platoon of soldiers and earning him some more push-ups. He didn't care--that was Mike. I've run into him on the job at Dresden over the years, and he never lost his sense of humor. He will be missed.

Very sorry to hear Mike passed. I didn't see him often, but when our paths crossed he always had a smile on his face and we shared laughs. Great guy. RIP Mike. Dave Scanavino
