“ In 1994 or 1995 I took my youngest son to the Smurfit-Stone Picnic. He was 11 or 12 at the time. He connected with Phil in a pesty kid sort of way. When it was time to leave Phil had ridden his motorcycle. My son said he could kickstart the bike. So Phil quietly showed him how to kick start the bike. Of course, he couldn't do it. So my son said well let's see you start it. So Phil hit the start button and the bike fired up! I think my son learned a lesson that day. Phil was a quiet guy but I enjoyed talking to him at work. He was good at his job and always tried to do his best. I am very sorry for your loss and I am sure he will be missed. Steve Rains
