“ sorry to hear of your loss you will miss your loved one. life has moved on and i lost track of you folks after your parents passed away. i remember all 4 of you children well, because we truly are related. i am janice underwood lawhorn (74) of thomasville ga, formerly of custer park lawrence underwood's daughter. my grandmother, elizebith dunn underwood was john dunn's sister. kissing cousins????? one of my memories of rick from oh so long ago is..... it was spring and we all were on the school bus coming home from school. george boyd was our bus driver. we were approaching your house from the essex road. the sky turned black and the wind blew hard. across the open field to our right two dark funnels came down from the dark clouds. they danced across the field. hail began to fall beating the school bus unmercifully. they were as big as soft balls. the only time i have ever experienced hail that large. george boyd let rick and his twin sister off the bus, and they ran the loooooong lane towards their house with only metal lunch pails over their heads for protection. later it haunted me. i was 18 and old enough to have stood up in their behalf and prevented them to get off the bus to run into danger. rick was about 8 years old..... this tornado danced across the countryside and touched down at mt. olivet college at bourbina close to kankakee..... my mother madeline bauter underwood, rode to work at catipiller in joliet with rick's father and uncle otto at different times over the years..... august 10 reed-custer will have a high school reunion at the park in braidwood. I plan on being there. perhaps we will meet as adults..... may all of you be blessed and find comfort in all of the sweet memories you hold close in your hearts. may god bless you. janice underwood lawhorn..... email janicelawhorn45@yahoo.com

“ Deepest sympathy to his loved ones. His sense of humor always brought a smile and his love of the Sox a lively discussion with his Cubs loving Unc. His photography skills will be missed. May you rest in the arms of the angels. Love you were the last words we exchanged❤️ Your Aunt Roxanne will always have fond memories.
